

From: wade f dansby 3
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 11/16/01 9:53am
Subject: shame on you

Shame on you for imposing inadequate and weak penalties on a company that has consistently ignored similar and almost identical measures in the past. You just gave them a slap on the wrist. The courts determined that Microsoft is an aggressive and damaging monopoly and broke law thereby. As long as they hold back all the code to their operating system and also develop major software for it, they will always have an insurmountable advantage over any other software developer. They can enter any new software paradigm and immediately dominate it. How does this foster any sense of competition. How can this possible be good for the industry. Shame on you all.

--

-----
wade dansby 3            reply to: wade3@webslingerZ.com media designer    wk 919.933.1222    mb 919.270.5598 webslingerZ, inc            http://www.webslingerZ.com